

Using virtual reality, on the other hand, a doctor can “fly through” each segment of the colon in 3D space. The difference is extraordinary. One of the nation’s top specialists at UCSF (who we’re working with currently) is completing the procedure in just 5-10 minutes using interactive VR. And she’s finding her ability to correctly identify cancerous lesions is up a full 100%.

...